

Girl scout camping

(setting up camp)

By Alexandria Hampton

*One day nearing the end of a school year in a girl scout meeting:
By girl scout cookie selling, we have earned enough money to do one of two things. Either do a overnight stay at the Toledo Zoo, or we can go camping.” Once we voted the majority was to go camping.*

The day of the camping trip

*After me, Xander, and mom packed up all of our stuff and loaded it into the car, we headed over to Hailey’s house to pick her up. After she settled in and all her stuff was loaded too, we started to drive.
After about an hour drive, we pulled up into our campsite and everyone was there to greet us. After a couple minutes of long unpacking me, Hailey, and Xander went to go talk to our friends. We mostly made corny jokes, and played a little bit of tag.*

A little while later...

After a little while my mom, (the troop leader) gathered everyone up in a circle to tell us something. She said “Now, we have an option about where you get to sleep, either you all set up your own tent or you all share a 10 person tent. Of course we chose the ten person tent so we could play and goof off in the tent instead of going to sleep.

Setting up the tent

This is what we did when we were setting up camp: First we spread out a large tarp on the ground, and then we put in the 100 polls. (just so you know there weren’t that many) That took so long, not to mention
