

My 7th Birthday Disaster

“Hey, Welcome! Thanks for coming! Wow you look great!” My mom was outside giving the guests free compliments. While I (the birthday girl) was inside the locker room trying to figure out which way my bathing suit bottoms go. Eventually I figured it out and found the pool room. All my friends were doing rock paper scissors to see who was going in the water first. I decided to do a huge cannon ball to splash all of them. KA-BOOM, “Hey! That water’s cold! Really?! Who was that?” They were all trying to figure out who it was until I floated to the top of the water. Next, we all went down the big water slide, there were eight huge splashes.

We all swam, went down the slide, and played in the pool. Then we heard the call from heaven “GUYS, PIZZAS HERE!!!” we rushed for our towels and hurried into the room. We ate and laughed and talked all about school, and family, and some other stuff. When we were done, we all jumped in the pool. I belly flopped (it hurts really bad) my stomach was red after that. We all laughed. “Hey, Ariella what’s that??” One of my friends Layla asked. “What’s what?” I asked. “That” Layla pointed at a strange brown-ish shape in the water. “GET OUT OF THE WATER!!!” I screamed. “Why?!” They asked. “BECAUSE SOMEONE SHARTED IN THE WATER!!!” They all screamed and splashed out. One of them told the lifeguard and we could no longer go in the water until proper cleaning, so the rest of the time we had to play board games and talk.

What a great birthday
