Characters: Lyra, Loki, Scarlet, Skylar, and Alice.

Alice, Lyra, Loki, Scarlet, and Skylar walked down the school stairs. "How can it be raining this hard? It was sunny almost two hours ago." Lyra said squinting at the sky, "Well a lot of things can change in a small amount of time, Lyra." Scarlet said putting her hands on her hips and glaring at Lyra. "We should start walking each other home before we all end up soaked." Loki said as she started walking and gestured the others to follow her. "Wait I know a shortcut we can take to get to Lyra's House" Skylar said Smiling, "Hey! Who said I wanted to go home first?" Lyra said frowning. Skylar ignored Lyra's complaining and pointed to an erie dark woods, "There." Said Skylar, "Are you sure this is the right shortcut? Is this even safe?" Alice said Staying behind, "Why is there even a woods by the school?"

"Well, we have to walk each other home and I don't wanna get soaked. The trees might provide some cover from the rain." Loki said looking back at Alice, "Fine. I'll go. This time." Alice said following them into the woods.

+About 30 minutes later+ "This is taking forever! Sky, I thought you said this was a Shortcut, not a trip across the world." Alice said glaring at Skylar. "We may have went the wrong way. To get to Lyra's house this way, we are supposed to take a left by that big tree. Did we?" Skylar said looking around, "No, I don't think so." Loki said, "I think we went right, by the smaller tree."

"Then we are lost." Skylar said "I Knew we shouldn't have gone this way." Alice said. "At least it stopped raining." Loki Said, trying to lighten the mood. "Better not jinx it." Skylar said smiling, "This is not the time Sky. We Don't need a comedian right now." Lyra said glaring at Skylar. "My hair is tangling, I need my brush." Scarlet exclaimed, running her paws through her smooth long hair, "Your hair is not our main priority Scarlet." Loki said, "We are lost in the middle of a dark woods, and we don't know our way out." Loki continued, "It's almost dark, and we have nowhere to rest, nothing to sleep on, also it's dangerous being out here at night." "You're right Loki. And anything could happen to us out here." Alice said looking around, "Wait, guys. Did you hear that? It sounded like someone said they can help us." Lyra said dropping her book bag and walked toward the voice. "This is always how people get kidnapped in a movie." Skylar said, "Does this look like a movie?" Alice said Looking at Skylar, "You mean where the stupid person decides to follow the strange voice? Then yeah." Skylar said being smart. "Shut up Sky." Alice said rolling her eyes, "Where did Lyra Go?" Scarlet said and stopped focusing her hair and looked around, "We need to find her." Loki said.

+About 4 Hours later+

"Where am I?" Loki asked herself, "What happened?" Alice asked, "My head is pounding." Scarlet said rubbing her forehead, "Where's my bookbag?!" Alice shouted, "Shh! We be loud! We Don't know where we are or who's here." Loki whispered, "Are you guys Up?" A loud voice came from behind a door, "Who's that?" Alice whispered lowering her ears and crawled behind Loki, "I don't know, but they won't lay a finger on us." Loki said baring her teeth. "Who Are you?" Loki Growled, "What kind of manners are those?" The boastful voice shot back, "If we don't know you we don't need to have manners!" Scarlet hissed, her claws shot out from her paws, "Who taught you that?" The Voice asked, "What are we doing here?! Why are we here?!" Loki growled. The lights flicked on, " You're at a science lab." Said a German Shepard in a Lab coat looking at a clipboard, "So your names?" He said, "Why should we tell you?" Loki said standing up baring her teeth, "When you meet someone new don't you tell them your name?" He said looking up from the clipboard at them, " Not when you just got kidnapped." Loki growled, "Well you'll tell me your name, or you'll be here for a while." He said. "C'mon, He's not going to give up, just tell him." Alice whispered, "I'm Loki, That's Skylar, Scarlet, Alice and just found Lyra." Loki said pointing at each of them as they waved, "Happy?" Loki asked, "Very," He said turning to the door, "I'll call one of you in a minute. If you don't come.." He said looking back, "There'll be consequences." he said walking off and slammed the door behind him. "What's going to happen to us?" Alice said looking up at Loki, her ears still lowered, Loki Knelt down, "I Don't Know, but I won't let him hurt you." Loki said reassuringly putting a paw on Alice's back. She Leaned on Loki, "I hope our parents are looking for us." Alice said, looking at the floor. "I Bet they are." Loki said smiling at Alice.

+An hour later+ "Alice" He called, "Do I have to go?" Alice asked Loki, "I'll go with you." Loki said standing up holding out her paw For Alice to grab to help her up, "Are you sure?" Alice said taking her paw and standing, "Let's go" Loki said holding the door for Alice. +When they got inside the office+

"Sit." He said his paws interlaced, elbows on his desk like a businessman. "We aren't a housepet thank you very much." Loki said rudely. They sat down, "Only one at a time I called Alice not you." He said Standing slamming his paws on his desk, "Well I'm staying." Loki said stubbornly, "Follow me." He said, They followed him to a strange room.To be continued.....
